

Helping hands

For Eurofox the 'helping hands' ethos covers many aspects of your business from getting the right product in the right place at the right time to the introduction to our Eurofox partners including appropriate installers, facade manufacturers and trade associations

- We can introduce you to specialist facade installers/enveloping contractors selected by geographical location, project scope and size
- We offer comprehensive technical support - available as AutoCAD files, method statements, and as animations. All Eurofox support systems are available as NBS Plus Specification Clauses
- Partnerships are important. Based upon significant international and domestic experience we can introduce you to original facade manufacturers - Market leaders who have adopted Eurofox as their support system of choice

- Helpful Sales support staff will be able to assist with current stock availability and price information. Immediate stock allocation is available to get a project underway and to ensure its smooth running
- We hold extensive stocks of brackets, components and extrusions
- We offer a prompt efficient delivery service, accurately picked, clearly identified whenever and wherever required
